Labor Leaders Arrested.

An important news item by telegraph this week was the sentence of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor to twelve months; John Mitchell, one of the vice-presidents, to nine months; Frank Morrison, secretary, to six months in jail, for contempt of court. The sentence was imposed by Justice Wright of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, and grew out of the suit of the Buck Stove & Range company of St. Louis, which was declared to be "unfair" to labor. Gompers was released on a $5,000 bond; Mitchell on $4,000 and Morrison on $3,000. The case will be appealed.

RABBITS ARE HARD FIGHTERS.

The Charge of Cowardice a Slander—Defeat of a Ferret.

Tell a man that he hasn't the pluck of a rabbit and if he doesn't disprove it by hitting you he is certain at any rate to be extremely annoyed.

Yet the taunt is a libel on the rabbit. A doe rabbit will fight like fury in defense of her young. She will charge like a battering ram and use those long sharp incisors of hers to capital purpose.

An old buck rabbit is not to be lightly tackled by weasel, stoat or even ferret. On the sanded floor of a small public house near Chestnut, a ferret of long experience was matched with an old lop-eared buck, the property of the landlord.

The ferret made straight for the rabbit's throat, but the latter was in the air before master ferret could reach him, and leaping clean over the ferret's head let out with those powerful hind legs of his a kick which hurled the ferret bodily against the wainscot. Twice the ferret returned to the attack and twice he missed his grip and went hurtling through the air.

The third repulse was enough for him. He knew he was beaten and could not be persuaded to stand up for a fourth round. — Pearson's Weekly.

The Cook and the Broth.

"The time when I get really discouraged," said the young housekeeper who is learning to cook, "is when I go to the public library and look over the title of the cook books there. When I read 'One Thousand Ways to Make Soup,' 'Four Hundred Kinds of Bread,' 'The Hundred Ways to Cook Potatoes,' 'Eight Hundred Different Puddings,' and 'Five Hundred Good Meat Recipes,' I feel like giving up. In comparison with all that ocean of culinary accomplishments still unexplored what signify my choicest cream tomato soup and puree of pears, my hot blaut and corn muffins, my scalloped potatoes, my chocolate pudding, and my chops and broiled steaks? So far that is about the only variety I have been able to introduce successfully into my bill-of-fare. When plain food of that kind goes on the table particularly well cooked I feel rather proud of myself for a few minutes, but before my head gets a chance to swell noticeably I remember those 3,000 other recipes that I've got to master before I can claim to be a skilled cook, and my conceit takes wings."

Reared by Jerks.

"I think I've heard you say," remarked the man who had ordered a ham-and-egg sandwich at the lunch-counter, "that you were brought up in a flat."

"If ever I said that," responded the pale-haired youth who was crumbling crackers into his tomato soup, "I understated the fact. I was brought up in 14 different flats."

And in the deep, sympathetic silence that followed, nothing was heard but the customary noises of a cheap eating house.—Youth's Companion.
